

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 1 / Page 1

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 2 / Page 2

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 3 / Page 3

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 4 / Page 4

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 5 / Page 5

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 6 / Page 6

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 7 / Page 7

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 8 / Page 8

SCHEDULE 3: CAPITAL EXPENDITURE & DEPRECIATION PLAN

Based on the independent building inspection report, immediate rectification works are required prior to practical completion. Option A requires 250,000 AUD in Capex. This expenditure covers necessary roof membrane replacement and HVAC lifecycle upgrades to achieve a 4.5 NABERS rating.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 9 / Page 9

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 10 / Page 10

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 11 / Page 11

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 12 / Page 12

SCHEDULE 4: ALTERNATIVE ASSET ACQUISITIONS

In review of the secondary target profile, Option B requires 0 AUD in Capex. The facility at 88 Links Rd was completed within the last 12 months, and all structural, mechanical, and electrical services remain under the original builder's warranty.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 13 / Page 13

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 14 / Page 14

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 15 / Page 15

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 16 / Page 16

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 17 / Page 17

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 18 / Page 18

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 19 / Page 19

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 20 / Page 20

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 21 / Page 21

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 22 / Page 22

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 23 / Page 23

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION - CONTRACT SUMMARY

Section 24 / Page 24

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.

This section outlines the general provisions, covenants, and warranties customary in commercial real estate

transactions of this magnitude. The Purchaser acknowledges that they have undertaken their own independent due diligence regarding the physical condition, environmental status, and statutory compliance of the improvements. Subject to the specific warranties detailed herein, the property is acquired on an 'as is, where is' basis. The Vendor warrants that, to the best of their knowledge, there are no outstanding statutory notices or encumbrances not previously disclosed in the data room.

Furthermore, both parties agree to execute all necessary instruments, deeds, and documents required to effect the transfer of title. The deposit shall be held in trust by the Vendor's solicitor pending completion. In the event of default by the Purchaser, the deposit shall be forfeited, without prejudice to the Vendor's right to pursue damages for breach of contract. Any disputes arising from the interpretation of these clauses shall be resolved via binding arbitration in New South Wales. Market conditions remain subject to macro-economic volatility, including OCR adjustments by the RBA and global supply chain constraints affecting capital works.